Geoffrey Miller Solicitors are specialists defending drivers nationwide for drink driving offences, dangerous driving, speeding tickets, penalty points totting up and all UK traffic and motoring offences. If you are facing prosecution for a motoring offence, your attendance at court* may be a mandatory requirement, particularly for dangerous driving and drink driving offences. Our values are different from most motoring solicitors. We want you to walk into the courtroom with confidence that your fate is in the hands of the right driving offence solicitors. More importantly, we want you to leave the courtroom with an indescribable feeling of relief, not just because the case is over but also because you get to keep your driving licence! Rather than focus on your motoring offence problems, we find solutions. With a 100% track record in a number of offence types, we know we are the best in the business. We also know that you may want to have our opinion verified and so have developed a unique “ref me” testimonials scheme. This allows you to contact previous clients of the firm to seek a completely independent reference about us and what we might be able to do for you.
